

Cookies Notice

Updated on 06/2021

This notice is an extension of the Personal Data Protection Charter. Its purpose is to provide you with clear information about the existence and use of cookies and other trackers in your mobile application.

What does the law have to say about cookies?

According to the new directives of the French National Information Science and Liberties Commission dated October 1, 2020:

Article 82 of the Law on Information Technology and Freedoms applies article 5.3 of the Privacy and Electronic Communications Directive 2002/58/EC, also known as the e-Privacy Directive, to French law. It stipulates that Internet users, except in certain cases, must grant their consent prior to any action involving the writing or reading of cookies or other trackers.

What are cookies and trackers?

It's not always easy to understand this kind of technical jargon, so we'll try to sum it up. A cookie is a small data file that is stored on your device and read when you visit a website or a mobile app. A tracker is a "piece" of a software that collects information about the people who use an application. These trackers make up a toolbox that helps mobile app developers do their job.

What about our app?

Because we take great care to protect your personal data, the trackers we use only collect anonymized information. Our sole purpose for using these trackers is to improve your experience. These are the kinds of trackers we use:

Mandatory trackers

These trackers are essential for ensuring the platform runs smoothly and in an optimized fashion. The platform cannot function correctly without these trackers.

Statistical trackers

These trackers make it possible to calculate traffic and usage statistics, which in turn makes the platform more user-friendly, easier to navigate, and optimizes its content. These trackers are exempted from the prior consent rule to allow the platform to measure its traffic.
